

Alexa M. Youssef, Associate

Overview

Communication, preparedness, and approachability. Alexa Youssef believes these are the three most important things to build and maintain client relationships. With these fundamental principles, she works closely with every client to implement a strategy to achieve satisfactory results and minimize the potential exposure clients face with each lawsuit. Alexa is dedicated to her work and is detail-oriented. She always works hard to find solutions that serve her client's best interests.

Having started in a civil defense firm in New Orleans, Alexa has gained valuable skills to solve any problem. Her practice areas mainly focus on general civil litigation, premises liability, insurance defense, and workman's compensation defense. In addition, she has experience defending insurance companies and their insured in lawsuits involving personal injury, motor vehicle accidents and premises liability.

Born and raised in Dallas, Texas, Alexa returned to her home state after living in New Orleans, Louisiana, for nine years and practicing law for six of those years. When she is not working, she enjoys traveling, soaking up Houston's vast food scene while still searching for Houston's best Lebanese food, cheering on her Dallas Cowboys and Oklahoma Sooners, and spending time with her husband, Justin, and Australian shepherd, Pita.
