

Galloway to Present 7th Annual New Orleans Claims and Litigation Conference

Galloway, Johnson, Tompkins, Burr & Smith will proudly present the 7th Annual New Orleans Claims and Litigation Conference on October 24, 2024 at The Ritz Carlton in New Orleans. Registration for this free event is now open.

Participants will have the opportunity to network with industry professionals and to earn CLE/CE credits through diverse programming throughout the day. Our experienced insurance defense attorneys, who go above and beyond to deliver positive results, will share key insights gained over years of partnering with insurance professionals and adjusters in Louisiana and across the Gulf South. Galloway has been ranked for the third year in a row for our leadership in insurance law in Louisiana by Chambers USA, and our litigators have years of expertise and successes in handling insurance coverage, bad faith, claims, and liability matters.

For more information on our New Orleans conference, please contact Tim Hassinger or register for free here. Please note that registration is required to attend.
