

Land Use & Zoning

Navigating the intricate web of land use and zoning regulations requires legal expertise and a deep understanding of local laws. At Galloway, our dedicated team of Land Use and Zoning attorneys brings unparalleled knowledge and experience to guide you through every stage of your project.

With a comprehensive grasp of zoning, planning, and land use laws, our attorneys have successfully secured permits for projects in various counties cities, and states.

We understand that effective land use practice is not just about what you know but also about who you know. That's why we take pride in fostering deep relationships with clients, regulatory officials, and elected policymakers.

At Galloway, our extensive experience translates into a nuanced understanding of applicable codes, historical interpretations, and practical applications. We represent a diverse range of clients, including private and public sector entities such as property owners, developers, counties, and municipalities.

We go beyond merely interpreting the law; we help our clients navigate the often intricate framework of land use laws and regulations. Whether you're a property owner or a municipality seeking guidance, we provide tailored solutions to meet your unique needs. Our goal is to find the most direct route and creative solutions to secure the permits essential for moving your projects forward.
