Galloway, Johnson, Tompkins, Burr & Smith, PLC Announces That Andrea L. Albert And Todd M. LaDouceur Have Been Elected Directors Of The Firm

Galloway, Johnson, Tompkins, Burr & Smith, PLC, a Gulf South Regional defense firm, is pleased to announce that Andrea L. Albert and Todd M. LaDouceur have been elected Directors of the firm.

In 2006, Andrea L. Albert joined the firm's New Orleans and Mandeville offices after several years of litigation practice in her native Lafayette, Louisiana. Andrea is a graduate from Loyola University New Orleans College of Law.

Andrea is an experienced appellate attorney having written appellate briefs filed in all Louisiana courts of appeal, the Louisiana Supreme Court, and the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. In that regard, she has presented oral argument before four of Louisiana's appellate circuits on many occasions. Andrea has extensive experience arguing in front of state and federal trial courts and has taken cases to verdict in favor of the firm's client. Andrea's practice focuses on defense litigation, from trial through appeal, and includes the areas of insurance coverage, property damage, premises liability, contractual liability, and personal injury. She is admitted to practice in all Louisiana state and federal courts. Recently, Andrea was named the Executive Women International, New Orleans Chapter Representative of the Year for 2009 and serves as the chapter president.

Todd M. LaDouceur graduated from the US Naval Academy in 1986 with his B.S. in Aerospace Engineering. For six years he was a Captain in the Marine Corp in Logistics, Intelligence and Operations. During that time, he was a Science Advisor for NASA on experiments for space shuttle missions. Todd graduated third in his class from the University of Florida College of Law in 1995, and was Order of the Coif.
