

Doris Bobadilla selected by New Orleans CityBusiness to its “Leadership in Law” class

The editorial board of New Orleans CityBusiness selected Doris Bobadilla to its 10th class for “Leadership in Law,” its annual publication and event that honors professionals in the legal profession for their career and community achievements. Leadership in Law recognizes 50 area legal professionals in four categories: firm associated, court associated, in-house counsel and educators. Honorees were selected based on their professional and community involvement and achievements that have set the pace for the overall community. Doris Bobadilla and this year’s “Leadership in Law” honorees will be celebrated at an event on Monday, March 24th at The New Orleans Museum of Art.
