

Dave Jester and Kellie Caggiano to Present Florida CE on Risk Transfer in Construction Law

On August 29, Dave Jester and Kellie Caggiano will present a CE in Tampa, FL on Risk Transfer in Construction Law. This CE focuses on topics such as risk shifting in construction contracts, risk transfer, indemnification (contractual and common law), additional insured coverage, blanket endorsements and choice of law provisions in construction contracts.

Dave Jester is a Director at Galloway Johnson and litigates disputes in all Florida and Alabama courts. Dave has vast experience in the areas of construction law, professional liability, and general casualty defense litigation. Dave also defends clients with issues involving worker's compensation, labor law and unfair labor practices, products liability, malpractice litigation, and real property law.

Kellie Caggiano is Special Counsel at Galloway Johnson and has over 12 years of experience litigating cases in Florida. Her practice focuses on liability defense, consisting mostly of: construction defect litigation; wrongful death defense; personal injury defense; automotive and trucking litigation; premises liability and employers' liability cases, as well as first party insurance defense and coverage work.

For information about the Risk Transfer in Construction Law CE, please contact djester@gjtbs.com or kcaggiano@gjtbs.com.