

New Orleans Attorney Craig Webb Recognized as a Finalist for the Frank L. Maraist Award 2016

New Orleans Attorney, Craig Webb, was recognized as a finalist for the Frank L. Maraist Award at the LADC Dinner on August 25th at the Ritz-Carlton. The award recognizes a young attorney's commitment to professional excellence and service to the legal profession, the bar, and his or her community.

Craig, who is a former mentor through the Big Brothers Big Sisters of New Orleans, currently provides legal advice and notary service to the homeless at the Harry Thompson Center in New Orleans, LA. Craig is also a member of Orleans Parish Sheriff's Office, Special Reserve Deputy Unit, and participates in civic action projects throughout the year.
