

Tim Hassinger to Present at the London Oil & Gas School

Tim Hassinger, a Director in our Mandeville office, will be an Instructor again at the biannual London Oil & Gas School teaching personal injury and contractual claims under maritime and state law. This is a four-day seminar from October 16 to 19, 2017 that also includes geology and exploration, rotary oil and gas well drilling, well evaluation, completion and production, hydraulic fracturing, surface handling of well fluids, offshore catastrophes, refining and processing, transportation of petroleum products, and energy economics. The course was created for personnel servicing the oil and gas industry, insurance brokers and underwriters, claims personnel, and attorneys.

Related Practices

Maritime & Admiralty

Related Industries

Maritime & Admiralty

Oil & Gas / Energy

Attorneys by State

LOUISIANA

Timothy W. Hassinger