

Healthcare

We understand the risks inherent in providing essential health services under extremely challenging circumstances. Galloway attorneys have protected the interests of hospitals, psychiatric facilities, elderly care facilities, nursing homes, home health agencies, physicians and surgeons, nurses, paramedics, pharmacists, and many other types of medical service providers. In addition to the representation of medical professionals and major health care networks and facilities, our clients include two of the three largest pharmacy chains in the United States, as well as the nation's largest privately held medical transportation company.

For the medical professionals and institutions we represent, however, there is much more at stake than a monetary award. Where a quick settlement might be expedient in other situations, in these cases there is an onerous cost in terms of both professional standing and goodwill. That's why we provide the aggressive, precise, and relentless advocacy that these matters require and deserve.

We have also regularly defended claims in front of medical review panels under the Patient's Compensation Fund in Louisiana, under the Texas Medical Liability Act, for the largest provider of physician insurance in Texas, and under each of the medical negligence frameworks within our geographic footprint. Our attorneys also have extensive experience defending general liability, premises liability, employer liability, and worker's compensation claims that are inherent in the day-to-day operations of health care facilities.
