ABOUT ADRAON

Keenly focused and driven to exceed expectations, Adraon D. Greene has a thorough understanding of his clients' objectives, concerns, and needs, closely partnering with them to develop reasonable expectations and achieve positive results. He focuses on providing outstanding legal counsel that seeks to minimize litigation's inherent risks and reduce potential exposure. Efficient communication, a firm grasp of the facts, and an experienced knowledge of the law aids his early case evaluation, proper preparation, timely client reporting, and cost-effective case handling.

Adraon began his legal career defending premises liability, personal injury, insurance defense, toxic tort, and general civil litigation matters. His practice evolved to include oil & gas, products liability, construction defect, commercial litigation, and business disputes, having represented several Fortune 500 companies, major automotive manufacturers, architects and engineers, insurers, and National and Regional retailers. Additionally, Adraon has experience litigating death and catastrophic injury matters and complex multi-party litigation disputes. His employer's liability practice focuses on Title VII with an emphasis on age, race, and sexual discrimination, including hostile work environment and quid pro quo harassment claims.

Adraon also served as a Certified Contract Adviser for the National Football League Players' Association.
