ABOUT C.

Blake Dye brings over 24 years of experience in complex civil litigation with a client-first approach, reliability, and attention to detail that ensures each case is handled with care and precision. He is distinguished by his expertise in handling high-value insurance defense cases, especially in navigating large-scale discovery efforts. Blake's experience in negligence, liability, and class action lawsuits has made him a go-to legal advisor for intricate cases.

Blake efficiently manages a large caseload while maintaining high quality, personalized service for his clients. He creates strong relationships with transparent and consistent communication, a high level of professionalism, and a deep understanding of his clients' legal challenges. His clients appreciate his thoroughness and his ability to skillfully solve problems. Driven and committed to securing favorable outcomes, Blake partners with his clients, going above and beyond to provide robust legal services that exceed his clients' expectations.

His practice focuses on complex civil litigation, insurance defense, and estate planning. Blake has extensive experience leading complex E-Discovery efforts and overseeing large volumes of documents in litigation. His work spans from defending corporate lawsuits to advising clients on probate and trust litigation. Blake's prior work involved advising family trusts, managing class action lawsuits, and providing comprehensive estate planning services.
