ABOUT GREG

Greg believes that the best approach is one with his clients' goals in mind. By getting to know his clients and finding out what their needs are, Greg is able to fulfill their needs. Greg helps develop a plan to achieve his client's goals with a clear understanding.

A licensed attorney for almost 30 years, Greg Thompson has been litigating workers' compensation, employer liability, and general civil matters for his entire career. He has handled well over a thousand administrative hearings and trials before the Texas Workers' Compensation Commission, and over 30 jury trials before the district courts.

Born and raised in Texas, Greg met and married his college sweetheart while studying at the University of Texas. Greg, his wife, and his two daughters live in Southwest Texas where they raise Registered Beefmaster cattle, and have won awards throughout the State of Texas with them.

Representative Matters

- Represented workers' compensation case involving the injured workers' extent of injury in which it was alleged the claimant's stroke and neurological deficits were caused by his compensable head injury. The case was lost before the administrative agency and appealed and won on behalf of the insurance carrier at the district court level resulting in estimated savings of approximately $1 million dollars.
