ABOUT NICOLE

Nicole Peer is a New Orleans-based attorney who represents businesses and their insurers in Louisiana litigation matters. Her practice includes insurance defense, bad faith litigation, professional liability, insurance coverage, premises liability, and personal injury defense.

Nicole began her legal career as a paralegal. While attending law school, she served as a student attorney with Tulane's Civil Rights and Federal Practice Clinic, focusing on fair housing issues in Greater New Orleans. Nicole brings creative approaches, technical and procedural knowledge, and an understanding of legal processes to her work supporting the Galloway team.

Originally from Massachusetts, Nicole has made New Orleans her home and is active in the Krewe of Cork and the Krewe of Dolly. Outside the office, she is a fitness enthusiast who teaches group fitness and indoor cycling classes.
