ABOUT VITTORIA

Vittoria Luchini believes in the importance of every client and every issue they face. She strives to provide the best possible legal assistance and highest quality of service and prides herself on creating the kind of open, honest, and ethical relationship with her clients that fosters mutual trust. She takes a practical approach to matters, and clients find her available, reliable, responsible, and dependable. Vittoria works closely with corporate clients, insurance companies, and insured clients, providing competent legal opinions and keeping them informed of the developments in their cases. She provides her clients with ongoing analysis of potential liability and exposure, advising clients on successful legal strategies as well as compliance with applicable local, state, and federal laws and regulations. Vittoria assists clients by researching and remaining current in applicable law in their specific situations and industries. She has developed extensive knowledge in the law applicable to the transportation, medical, scientific, construction, consumer, and engineering fields and the litigation protocols specifically tailored to each. Within her litigation practice, Vittoria is adept at managing discovery, preparing witnesses for depositions, drafting motions, dispositive motions, pleadings, and affidavits to further the litigation strategy established for each case.

Vittoria was born and raised in Naples, Italy. Her entire family still lives there, and she loves her annual return visits to Italy to see her family. Vittoria also enjoys cooking (not only Italian food) – experimenting with spontaneous recipes – as well as nature walks and hikes with her fiancée and her husky, Zeus.
