

Galloway Director Frederick William "Billy" Swaim III Named to 2021 Leadership in Law Class

Galloway is proud to recognize director Billy Swaim as a 2021 CityBusiness Leadership in Law honoree. CityBusiness has recognized Billy for his professional achievements, leadership in the legal field, and dedication to the New Orleans community.

Billy is an experienced litigator and native New Orleanian with over 18 years of experience in the legal industry, handling matters both domestic and internationally. Born and raised in a home with one of New Orleans' most beloved law professors - "Louisiana Swaim" - the language of law comprised the daily discourse in the household and introduced Billy into the legal profession from a young age. He has practiced law in the federal courts in Louisiana and Texas, handled many cases in other jurisdictions on a pro hac vice basis, and has been involved in several international arbitration and litigation matters.

In addition to his utmost dedication to his practice and presenting on many topics around the world, Billy has also taught classes at Loyola University New Orleans, Tulane University A.B. Freeman School of Business, and Tulane University School of Law. Billy is a member of the American Bar Association, the Federal Bar Association, the Louisiana State Bar Association, the New Orleans Bar Association, the Maritime Law Association, the Southeastern Admiralty Law Institute, the Loyola Maritime Law Society, and the Thomas More Inn of the American Inns of Court.

Galloway takes great pride in recognizing Billy as an exemplary model of a lawyer who continues to promote the advancement of the New Orleans area, inside and outside the legal community.

Now in its 17th year, New Orleans CityBusiness Leadership in Law recognizes outstanding legal professionals from the greater New Orleans area who are chosen based on their achievements in their field and within the community.
